The assas five days, hoping to secure sufficient sin, who was disguised as a workman, wa scaptured after a long chase through the crowded city streets, during which he fired several shots from two revolvers, killing a policeman and Peterson he informed them that, de wounding a small boy.

The crime was executed deliberately and showed evidence of the same careful preparation which characterized the murders of General Ignatieff and Von der Launitz, and undoubtedly was carried out by the same organization which it is reported has sentenced Emperor Nicholas and several of the ministers to death

The assassin, who wore the uniform of a military clerk attached to the court, succeeded in obtaining entrance to the garden under the pretext of submitting a report to the military procurator. He approached the unsuspecting general within an arm's length, drew an automatic pistol and dis-charged the whole load of seven shots into Pavloff's body. Every shot was well aimed, and two of them tore a gaping wound in his breast, from which the general expired while being carried to his apartments, located in the same building. From the nature of the wounds it appeared that the steel-jacketed bullets were flattened at their ends in reparation for the crime in order that they might inflict more serious wounds. Hastily slipping another "clip" of cartridges into his revolver and drawing a second weapon the assassin ran acros the garden to the carriage entrance, threatened a porter with his pistols and dashed down the stret, past the Imperial Opera House with a crowd of thirty house porters and court attaches in close pursuit. A policeman stationed in front of the house attempted to seize the assassin, but was shot down by the latter, who turned and opened fire on his pursuers, wounding a boy. The assassin then turned his flight through the streets, firing at police officers and house porters who attempted to bar his When his ammunition became exhausted he was intercepted and captured at Panterne lane.

FOR MORE EXPERIMENT STATIONS IN TEXAS.

The advantage to be had by this method over that of the work cone by individuals is that a greater variety of seeds can be experimented with and closer and more expert attention can be given them. The various ways in which the work can be done makes it possible to land, sand, black waxy, loam or clay. It would be within the range of the work of such an institution extent in this part of the country, tablished throughout the state, and and to select the best varieties of with especial reference to dry weather plants, or the varieties of plants now grown in the various sections of the State that are best adopted to the dry localities.

Prof. H. H. Harrington, president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, made a splendid suggestion when, in a letter to the News recently on the subject of the extension of the experiment station work, he mentioned the establishment of a plant breeding and selecting station. Viewing the work from all standpoints, it seems heavier, at 1000 head, market generally probable that such a station would ten lower, because of a heavy run and be of more practical value than any lower prices at all the markets today. The other work that could be done in vision is stock grades and feeders, which the way of experimental work. is fortunate, as this branch of the trade is Good seed adapted to the climate better able to stand a heavy run than any and soils of the section in which it other, and it reduces the number of fed catis proposed to grow them, are as important as a practical knowlege of the soil itself.

STEAD'S MISSION.

Trip Around the Wrid Is In the in-Paris, Jan. 9 .- William T. Stead of London, who is here, says in an interview that he is on his way around the world in the interest of peace. He further declares that he is authorized by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the British premier, to say that Great Britain, if no other country does so, will at the approaching second peace conference at The Hague raise the question of taking steps to provide for the maintenance of international peace. This, Mr. Stead says, will be done in the form of two propositions, as follows:

First—That each country participating in the conference appropriate a sum of money to be used in the propagation of the idea of maintaining international peace.

Second—That each country partici pating in the conference render obliga-tory observance to Article VIII of the act of the peace conference of 1839, permitting a third power to tender mediation without giving offense between the two disputing powers, and also the participating powers to extend the scope of Article VIII so as to bind signatories in cose of declaration of war not to begin hostilities for a fortnight, in which time friendly powers have the right to intervene in an attempt to adjust the quarrel.

PARDEE'S FAREWELL.

Retiring Governor Says President Does Not Understand Question.

Sacramento,, Jan. 9.-The message of retiring Governor Pardee was read to the legislature Tuesday. Referring to the Japanese question, Governor Pardee declared that in common with the people of the east, who have had no experience with the unassimilative people of China and Japan, the president does not understand the racial difference between the Japanese and the Chinese and the people of Caucisian blood. He said that equal facilities are accorded the Japanese in their schools with those accorded the Cau-casian children in their schools, but that on account of their deficient learning the Japanese must be enclassed. He declared that the Chinese and Japanese never can become good citizens.

One Man Dead, His Brother Dying and Another Party Wounded.

Eureka, Cal., Jan. 9.-A. W. Jenks is dead, his brother, S. W. Jenks, is dying and John Hayes is probably fatally wounded as the result of a street battle between union and non-union longshoremen. The two Jenks were non-union longshoremen and Hayes a union man. The battle was the culmination of trouble which had been brewing here between non-union and union men a long time. The mill men determined to run the boats on the "open shop" principle and a short time ago formed a stevedore company to load and unload lumber vessels. The lumbermen refused to work for the new company.

Mr. Slayden spoke of the sympathy of Orizaba. that welds people into a homogenous When the present and social mass, but said that it "has never existed, nod never will exist between negroes and whites."

the Twenty-fifth infantry, and said it has a particularly vicious record, and while stationed at Fort Meade, S. D., in the summer of 1885, a corporal of that regiment murdered a citizen, and the people of the community lynched the murderer. About three weeks after the lynching fifteen or twenty ne- ing over eighty. After this the mob gro soldiers raided and shot up the a criminal outbreak by this regiment. Then came the outbreak at Fort Nio-brara, Neb., where a "wanton and coldblooded murder" was committed.

Other instances of lawlessness by negro troops were also detailed. Speaking of the Brownsville shooting, Mr. Slayden said:
"It seems absurd that at this late day we should be asking who did the shooting. I fail to see where there is room for such doubt. If the soldiers had been white, and the circumstances the same; if the same mass of clear, strong evidence against them had been submitted, and if the president had dismissed them from the service in the same nanner there would not only have been no doubt as to who were the murderers, but the action of the president would have been almost unanimously approved. But then the whites were not available political asset, handled in bulk, which explains many things.

White Officers Are Determined Not to Be Attacked Unawares.

El Reno, Okla., Jan. 9.-Belief of the officers at Fort Reno that a conspiracy to murder the officers at Fort Reno, beginning with Captain Edgar
A. Macklin, against whom nearly every negro soldier at the post entertains a personal grudge on account of the affray at Brownsville and the discharge fray at Brownsville and the discharge of the negro troops, and then preced ing down the list of officers, became known Tuesday is a result of the preliminary hearing in the case of Edward L. Knowles, corporal of Com- of water, wood, etc. Price right and night ashrdluaoishrdaluionunluemfwy pany A, Twenty-fifth infantry, who was held on a charge of assault with intent to kill Captain Macklin of Company C, Twenty-fifth infantry, on the night of Dec. 21. Knowles was bound over to await the action o. the Canadian county grand jury at the opening term of court.

All of the officers go heavily armed, and are protected throughout the night. Every effort has been made by the officers at the post to keep the alleged conspiracy a secret, but it is learned that an investigation is now being conducted at several army posts and im portant places throughout the country, and within a short time several mem-bers of the troop recently discharged in disgrace are expected to follow.

Information was received here that the arrest of a negro has been made at Lajunta, Colo., Tuesday. Suspicion rests upon a negro soldier at Fort Ni-obra, Nev. The arrests of these men have been postponed until the hearing in the case of Corporal Knowles was concluded at Fort Reno.
